

ENDS INSPECTION OF V. M. CADETS

Captain Schindel, of United States Army, Talks to Officers About New Reserve Army.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Lexington, Va., April 21.—Captain Schindel, of the general staff of the United States Army, who for the past three days has been inspecting the military department of the Virginia Military Institute, left Lexington this morning. Saturday he put in a strenuous day watching the cadets go through almost every phase of military work that is taught at the institute, beginning with guard mount early in the morning and finishing up at night with a meet in the gymnasium.

Sunday morning Captain Schindel met the first class officers in the office of the commandant to talk to them about the new reserve army, patterned after the German reserve, which is now being considered by Congress. The plan, as Captain Schindel outlined it, is that a second army is to be formed, the officers of which will be appointed from among the graduates of the principal military schools of the country. The officers will do active duty and receive a reserve pay for the period of one year, after which time they will be held in reserve for five years to be called out whenever the country is in need of their services. Captain Schindel expressed the hope that if this bill did pass Congress many of the graduates of the V. M. I. would see fit to apply for commissions. He also stated that after this year the second grade of the institute would be accepted as a second lieutenant in the regular army in case he passed the physical examination. Heretofore it has been necessary for all graduates to pass the mental as well as physical examinations.

Monday morning, with General Nicholas, Colonel Eglin and Colonel Vase, Captain Schindel watched the battalion go through the beautiful ceremony of escort of the color. Company A acting as escort and receiving the national and State colors from the superintendent's quarters. The ceremony was beautiful and the inspector expressed himself as much pleased. Escort to the colors was immediately followed by morning parade, and then by battalion inspection in field equipment. After this ceremony the inspector spent some time on the target range, watching the cadets firing. The institute has been on the distinguished list of military schools ever since the law was passed providing for the inspection of such schools, and it is confidently expected by the authorities that, as a result of this inspection, it will again be placed on the distinguished list.

Being ready-cooked and ready-to-serve it is easy to prepare a warm, nourishing breakfast with Shredded Wheat in a few moments—a breakfast to study on, to work on, to play on. Its daily use builds sturdy, hardy youngsters—better than porridges that are bolted down without chewing.

For breakfast heat the Biscuit in the oven a few moments to restore crispness; then pour hot milk over it, adding a little cream; salt or sweeten to suit the taste. It is deliciously nourishing and wholesome for a meal with stewed prunes, baked apples, sliced bananas, preserved peaches, pineapple or other fruits. At your grocer's.

DISPUTING TITLE TO 200,000 ACRES

Supreme Court Reopens Buchanan County Case by Granting Writ of Error.

Renewed impulse to litigation involving the ownership of 200,000 acres of coal land in Buchanan County was given yesterday, when the Supreme Court of Appeals granted a writ of error and supersedeas to the plaintiff in the case of the Buchanan Company against Smyth, Banks and others. On account of rich mineral deposits, the land is of immense value, being estimated to be worth millions of dollars. The litigation has its origin in the sale of the land for taxes in 1816. The title to the tract is said to be blurred by an error in the name of one of the parties interested in this transaction, "Richard" Smyth being written in one instance instead of "Robert" Smyth.

The case comes from the Washington County Circuit Court, where it was transferred for hearing by mutual agreement of the parties to the litigation. After attorneys for the Buchanan company had presented their arguments to Judge F. B. Hutton, the defendants introduced a demurrer, which was sustained by the court. Thereupon the plaintiffs made an amendment to their bill, and the defendants, demurring again, were a second time upheld by Judge Hutton. The writ was granted upon the second demurrer.

BIG CROWD HEARS VINCENT LECTURE

Minnesota University President Discusses Society and Individualism.

Man's relationship to society, represented by classes or groups, was discussed last night by President George E. Vincent, Ph. D., of the University of Minnesota, in a lecture at Richmond College. The address, the first of a series of three to be delivered by Dr. Vincent, was held in the college chapel under the James Thomas Lecture Endowment. The chapel was filled long before the doors were opened to the general public, and it was necessary to seat the overflow in the large vestibule.

The subject of the address was "The Man and the Group." In the course of the lecture, Dr. Vincent brought out that society or mankind was divided into groups and that every man, no matter how strong his personality, was a product of the group to which he belonged. Every person reflects the average of commonplaces, and it is the striving to rise above this that creates so-called individualism, but with all that, it is the individual who grasps the teachings of the group that stands out above his fellow man.

Dr. Vincent is widely known as a lecturer and educator. He is a graduate of both Yale and the University of Chicago, and was for a number of years head of the Chautauque Assembly, Chautauque, N. Y. He has been president of the University of Minnesota since 1910.

Dr. Vincent, while a comparatively young man, is an easy and fluent speaker. Speaking with great rapidity and covering an unusual amount of ground in a short time, his enunciation is clear and his voice was plainly heard in every part of the large hall. His talk on the groups of society leads up to the second lecture of the course, which he will give to-night. The subject will be "Freedom From Responsibility." The final lecture will be held tomorrow night on "The Larger Selfishness."

Owing to the death of his father, President F. W. Boatwright, of Richmond College, was unable to be present. The speaker was introduced by Prof. J. C. Metcalf, who will preside over the remainder of the lectures. Ticket holders are admitted up to 8:10 P. M., after which the doors are thrown open for general admission.

MAKES RHEUMATISM PROMPTLY DISAPPEAR

Crippled-up Sufferers Find Relief After Few Doses of Croxone are Taken

It is needless to suffer any longer with rheumatism, and be all crippled up, and bent out of shape with its heart-wrenching pains, when you can surely avoid it.

Rheumatism comes from weak, inactive kidneys, that fail to filter from the blood the poisonous waste matter and uric acid; and it is useless to rub on liniments or take ordinary remedies to relieve the pain. This only prolongs the misery.

The only way to cure rheumatism is to remove the cause. The new discovery, Croxone, does this because it neutralizes and dissolves all the poisonous substances and uric acid that lodge in the joints and muscles, to scratch and irritate, and thus cause rheumatism, cleans out and strengthens the stopped up, inactive kidneys, so they can filter all the poison from the blood, and drive it on and out of the system.

Croxone is the most wonderful medicine ever made for chronic rheumatism, kidney troubles and bladder disorders. You will find it different from all other remedies. There is nothing else on earth like it. It matters not how old you are, or how long you have suffered, it is practically impossible to take it into the human system without results. You will find relief from the first few doses, and you will be surprised how quickly all misery and suffering will end.

An original package of Croxone costs but a trifle at any first-class drug store. All druggists are authorized to sell it on a positive money-back guarantee. Three doses a day for a few days is often all that is ever needed to overcome the worst backache or urinary disorders.—Advertisement.
